ENVOYS ARE THANKFUL

BOER PEACE DELEGATES GRATEFUL FOR AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

They Issue a Farewell Address, in Which They Give Their Version of the Trouble in South Africa.

NEW YORK, June 26 .- The Boer envoys, who have been in this country for the past | my decision this early so as to warn the two months, to-day issued an address to dealers in fireworks and save them much the people of the United States. After expressing regret at their inability to accept many of the invitations extended to them, ican public for "The deep sympathy they placing the ban only on firearms, cannot have shown for the cause of the two strugsays: "We now feel convinced that the boastful allegation of the colonial secretary and other British statesmen that the citizens of this great country sympathized with the British empire in its attempt to crush the liberty and independence of our two small states is absolutely devoid of

The address then goes at great length Great Britain and the Boers, Which broken pledges cloaked under the display of magnanimous and irreproachable prin ciples." Coming down to the discovery of a history of the political agitation which culminated in the Jameson raid.

The address declares that the capitalists control the press of South Africa and that the editors of these subsidized journals were appointed special correspondents of the political London dailies. The broad charge is made that Mr. Chamberlain's revival of the suzerainty claim in 1897, his public utterances, Sir Alfred Milner's eches and inflammatory dispatches and he efforts of the South African League, under the presidency of Cecil Rhodes, were all directed towards the ultimate destruction of the two Dutch republics.

The address then takes up the various nternational questions which contributed lowards the outbreak of war and discusses em in great detail, making wholesale denials of the English representation. The address declares that at the Bloemfontein conference both President Steyn and President Kruger endeavored to avert the catastrophies by conceding even more than the original demands on the franchise question, but their efforts were fruitless It was asserted that the war was forced upon the Boers and the claim is advanced that they took up arms only in self-defense. The address continues that the of Great Britain was designedly shaped so as to compel the Boers to sen on the 4th of October what is common known as their ultimatum to Great Britain. Taking up the campaign to date the address says: "The boers may be in the end may ultimately be forced to surrender, owing to difficulty of securing ammunition and provisions, but the conduct of the present war, as well as the history of the past one hundred years, justifies us in saying that they will never be conquered." The address concludes by saying that the envoys do not ask the direct or forcible Intervention of the United States, but a continuance of public sympathy and support. The address is signed by Abraham Fischer, C. H. Wessels and A. D. Wolmar-

END OF THE REBELLION IN NORTH-ERN PART OF CAPE COLONY.

Transvaal Boers Still Bent on Prolonging the War-Consul Stowe's Warning to Young Americans.

LONDON, June 27, 3:20 a. m .- The Boer commandoes in the eastern part of the Orange River Colony appear to have been broken up by their leaders for the time into small parties that harass large columns of the British, incessantly cutting off scouts, sniping pickets, making a show of force here and there, and bewildering the slow-moving bodies. Commandant Christian De Wet, General Steyn's principal commander, is the genius of these guerrilla operations. He is the hero on the Boer side in these last days of hostilities. Lord Roberts's columns are steadily contracting the circle of their advance.

The War Office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Pretoria residency, June 26: "Sir Charles Warren reports that the rebellion in Cape Colony, north of the Orange river, is now over. The last formidable body, under Commandant De Villiers, surrendered on June 20, consisting of about 220 men, 280 horses, 18 wagons, 260 rifles and 100,000 rounds of ammunition. General Baden-Powell reports that pacification is going on satisfactorily in the Rustenberg district."

Transyaal officials, who were interviewed yesterday at Machadodorp by a correspondent of the Daily Express, asserted an intention to hold out to the last. President Kruger will probably retire to Waterval Onder or Nelspruit. His physician thinks his condition of health will not allow him to go to the high veldt.

The British prisoners at Nooit Godacht are now more comfortable. Large quantities of food and blankets have been forwarded to them, and their inclosure is lighted by electricity.

Pretoria telegrams say that supplies of warm clothing are reaching Lord Roberts's infantry, who had been ragged and had suffered from the cold.

Commandant General Botha is uncomnonly active east of Pretoria. The Canadians are doing splendid outpost Large quantities of bar gold, received by merchants in the western part of Transvaal, from President Kruger, ostensibly in payment of requisitioned goods, have been seized by the British. If the genuineness of the accounts can be proved the gold will probably be repaid. The official report of the capture of convoy of fifty wagons, escorted by Highlanders, between Rhenoster and Heilborn June 4, was only received to-day. Lord Roberts reports that the convoy was surrounded, and sent messengers to the nearest posts, asking for assistance, but reinforcements were unable to reach the convoy and 150 Highlanders, in reply to a flag of truce from Gen. Christian De Wet, surrendered during the morning of June 24. Sir Alfred Milner wires Mr. Chamberlain that all the securities deposited by the American and other insurance companies

How Baden-Powell Tricked Boers. LONDON, June 27.-Winston Churchill, f a dispatch from Pretoria, dated June 19, describes an interview with General Baden Powell, in which the hero of Mafeking said, among other things, that the Boers could certainly have stormed Mafeking early in the siege. Little flags dotting the outskirts and numerous warnings to the townspeople not to let their cattle stray within the areas sown with mines proved an effective ruse and saved the garrison the trouble of laying mines.

Consul Stowe Says He Cannot Care for

American Boys at Cape Town. WASHINGTON, June 26.-The matter of the shipment of American citizens at New Orleans and other ports for South Africa British transports carrying mules and horses for Cape Town and other South African ports has been frequently brought to the attention of the Department of State, which is now in receipt of a dispatch from the consul general of the United States at Cape Town, dated May 30, pointedly referring to this matter. Hundreds of young men, it is stated, ship for the voyage at enlist in the army, others become objects of charity; others reship for different ports. of the opinion that they had shipped for the return voyage, but that they had so contracted the ship papers do not state. In other cases desertion follows from ships (after arrival at Cape Town) that are bound up the coast. "The most annoying feature of the situation, Mr. Stowe remarks, is that his consulate general is flooded with letters from the friends and relatives at home which courtesy demands -shall be answered; whereas the time spent in investigations that it may be necessary to make should be evoted to other duties. Simply to receive these boys and listen to their tales and demands for assistance and for their return erable time. Again, Mr. Stowe says that their friends in the United States appear to believe that all that is necessary to have their boys sent home or to care for them while in South Africa is prompt attention on his part. He adds: "I pity and sympathize with these boys when they file into this office: I help them from my pocket more than I can afford to and I obtain work for them, but my time is of more value to the government in other lines of work. The war, with its added work, is enough without adding unnecessary work Americans to see the world. It ought to be made plain to young men that the United States government has no fund to use for their care abroad, and that the consul cannot afford to support them and send them home, even with the assurance that money

ish, but Ruhlin's Vitality Enables Him to Floor His Man.

CONEY ISLAND, June 26 .- For the first time in his pugilistic career Tom Sharkey went down to decisive defeat to-night in the historic arena of the Seaside Athletic Club, and big Gus Ruhlin, the Ohio pugilist, was his conqueror. It was a clean knock-out after fifteen rounds of fighting that made a memorable ring battle. Save in the matter of aggressiveness, Ruhlin led from the face-off, in every feature of the game, and at all times had the fight well in hand. Sharkey did not give up his place in the line of first-class heavyweights without a desperate struggle. No soldier ever gave more desperate battle, no man sinking to unconsciousness ever clung more determinedly to his vitality. Even at the bellion which is in progress in Baratonga, end, when blinded by the blows of his powerful opponent and dulled mentally by the battering of his foe, he clung instinctively

The decisive battle and unexpected result were truly a surprise for the sporting public. No line of form that could be figured gave the Ohioan more than a one to two chance. Sharkey had met and at least stood off all of the leading heavyweights now in the ring. He was known to be a giant in strength, courageous to a point beyond discretion, and aggressive. Ruhlin, on the other hand, had never made a particularly good showing against any man of derstanding the disturbing effects of the reputation and was regarded as a secondone hundred and eightieth degree of longi- rater of a pronounced type. Hence there was apathy as to the fight, and while there was some spirited betting, Ruhlin never showed better than 10 to 7, and it was even money that he would not last ten rounds, back twenty-four hours. Since discovering | The management, in fact, decided to put the general admission down to $1. There was a big crowd on hand, however, and they were treated to a rattling good fight with surprising results.

Sharkey was the first man to come, and it patient crowd gave him a fair volley of applause and was not specially enthusiastic showed to great advantage from the spectators' view point, when the men stood up together. He had height, and weight, and reach, and looked big and muscular. His condition seemed perfect and his work, as the battle progressed, showed that it was, Sharkey was not lacking in the matter of when the men, answering the gong, came to the center, speculators went through the crowd, offering 2 to 1 on Sharkey. At these figures there was a heavy play, and the talent did the paying.

RUHLIN WAS CLEVER.

As the men sparred to an opening it could be seen that Ruhlin showed improved footwork and greater cleverness in avoiding punishment. Ability in that respect, coupled with his natural advantages, gave him a superiority in which he never wavered. He also showed fierce punishing power, and it was only Sharkey's superb vitality that kept him from defeat earlier in the battle. He used his right and left with equal facility and made them both count. He rather lacked in aggressiveness. and if he had gone in could have finished allowed Sharkey to make the pace, and although he met him determinedly enough then he came in, he did not press all of his advantages. He used his reach to excellent advantage, and time and again step-ped in after the chunky Irishman had wung at him and made his blow count. Sharkey, with that marvelous aggressiveess which has made and marked his pugilistic career, made the pace from the square-off until he was helpless. He had met his match, however, and defeat, al-though slow, was inevitable. Each round if they would not hurt a child, but Tom was brought him closer to it. He cut the sailor's face until it was bathed in blood and marked als chest and sides where he planted his powerful punches. They clashed in desperate clinches and were broken time and again. Sharkey showed an inclination to ough it and wrestle in the clinches, and the unsympathetic crowd hissed and hooted Cries of "foul" rang from the crowd, but the referee refused to interfere. The finish was dramatic. Sharkey had struggled through the fourteenth round by desperate effort, and was but little revived when he came up for the fifteenth. He made a wild try with his left. Ruhlin sprang in and beat the Irishman down to the floor with a volley of punches. The resolute fighter struggled to his feet, and when Ruhlin came in clutched him around the waist. Ruhlin shook him off and drop oed him again. A thousand men, frenzied in their excitement, surrounded the ring, and there was a din of hoarse yells. Gus shot a straight right to the face and Tom rushed him across the ring and landed a hard right behind the ear. Gus jabbed back, but was very tired, and Tom banged him with hard rights to the body and both hands to the head. Gus was staggering when the bell sounded

Ruhlin Acts Like a Child. NEW YORK, June 26.-When seen in his dressing room Ruhlin acted like a big child. "Well, what did you think of it?" was his greeting to the interviewers. "Didn't I do all right? I'm a big, slow fellow and can't fight, may be, but I won, didn't I? Tom's a tough, game fellow and gave me a good ight, but I hadn't any doubt as to the ending. I'm not hurt and feel fine, and whatwants me to fight, I'll fight, I don't care we're now ready for Mr. Jeffries and hope he will come to time without play. I think I have the champion and will make a match as soon as Jeffries signifies a willinguess, and I don't think that he can afford to refuse after to-night's work." Sharkey was much downhearted, but said he had no excuses to make. He was willing to meet his conqueror again and had $10,000 to wager that there would be a different result on their next meeting.

Jim Corbett was highly elated over Ruhlin's victory. He said Jeffries had done a lot of talking lately, and will now have to make good his bluff or quit.

MILLIONS FOR RELIEF.

Curzon Tells What Has Been Done for Famine Sufferers.

CHICAGO, June 26 .- Lady Curzon, vicerone of India, writing to S. D. Eldridge, of the Chicago India famine relief committensity over the areas afflicted than at any previously recorded visitation. Fewer persons are suffering. The absolute failure of western and central India makes the task of recuperation more arduous than on any previous occasion. The government has reduced the rate of mortality, and even in the worst districts the figures show only a slight excess over the normal rate. Tho government has spent $26,600,000 upon direct relief, $10,000,000 upon suspensions and remissions of land revenue, $6,000,000 upon advances for the purchase of seed and cattle and $5,000,000 upon loans to the distressed states. The relief committee has distributed $2,500,000 through various chan-

NEW YORK, June 26.-J. W. Johnson and family and Mrs. Mary Moyser, missionaries of the Christian Alliance in India, have just arrived in New York. Their sta-Borar, central India. Mr. Johnson is located at Khamgaon, a place of about forty thousand inhabitants. Mrs. Moyser is at Akola. Mr. Johnson has been in Khamgaon eight years. Speaking of the condition in India, he said: "When we left India, on May 15, six million people were on the government relief lists. On June 1 we heard that cholera had broken out. In Ahmedabad, a place of sixty thousand per before we started. When we left, the government was transferring seven thousand or eight thousand people from place to place, because of lack of drinking water. In my station, where there are forty thouwith water in them. The people are hau stream never before known to go dry. Since the last famine, three years ago, the govlevel of the water in the ground has sunk fifteen feet, which is the cause of all the difficulty. The railroad engine at our place is obliged to go fifteen miles for water. The railroad companies are building tanks and hauling water from place to place. Cholera, smallpox and diarrhoea are now following the famine. We heard at Genta that there had been floods at Bombay Rains now would be worse than far for they would cause the grass and weeds to spring up. The natives would seize upo this growth as soon as it appeared above the ground and boil and eat the mess. Being in such a famished state, this would have a very disastrous effect upon them. There is plenty of grain in the country, if the government would only put a little pressure upon the greedy merchants." Money Cabled to India. NEW YORK, June 26 .- Fifteen thousand dollars was received to-day from the Kansas India famine relief committee and cabled to the interdenominational mission-
